

Fund strategy

Fund invested in international equities with an active management. The management is close to the MSCI World with country/sector deviations explained and monitored thanks to a top-down approach. The stock selection is made mainly by a bottom-up approach. The fund can be invested up to 40% in emerging markets and up to 50% in small and medium companies. The fund has a currency hedge policy to the reference currency, by hedging at least 90% of foreign currencies.

Comments

April was a difficult month with a hardening of the war in Europe and strict lockdowns in China, particularly in Shanghai, again putting pressure on global production and supply chains. The port of Shanghai is the world's leading port in terms of exports. With rising inflation and the overall economic slowdown, stock market indices fell nearly 10%. In April, there was profit taking on metals and energies, sectors that we overweight. The Nasdaq fell a lot and entered into a bear market. Defensive sectors (Consumer Staples, Healthcare and Utilities) outperformed at the expense of Technology and Consumer Discretionary. We reduced technology and consumer discretionary to take positions in McDonalds, Yum Brands, BAT and Costco. But we remain overweight metals, energy and defence, three sectors that should perform well in a wartime economy. For the month of May, indices could experience a rally of 10%, which will be a period of profit taking and of overweighting defensive sectors. Our latest purchase is SSE, the British energy company which is growing in the production of electricity with renewable energies. Moreover, with the reduction of European imports of Russian fossil energies, the producers of electricity with green energies are interesting.
